DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abecassis (6,192,340).

As recited in claims 1 and 26, Abecassis discloses a portable device (100, 200), comprising: an interface (106) to receive at least one file from another device as discussed in column 7, lines 23-42; and a controller (131) to be communicatively coupled to the interface, the controller to allow transfer of the file as discussed in column 7, lines 43-54.

As recited in claim 2 and 27, Abecassis discloses the portable device wherein the interface receives at least one file containing digital music as discussed in column 5, lines 40-48.

With respect to claims 6, 7, 11, 12, 16, 25, and 29, Abecassis discloses security system (453) for providing file security.

As recited in claim 8, Abecassis discloses the portable, wherein the interface receives the file from another portable device as discussed in column 10, lines 62-64.

As recited in claim 10, 17, and 23, Abecassis discloses a method, comprising: selecting at least one music file from a first portable device to transfer to a second portable device as discussed in column 10, lines 50-64; transferring the music file to the second portable device as discussed in column 5, lines 40-48; and wherein the portable device may transfer the music file to one or more devices.

Abecasis does not disclose the use of a transfer count nor encryption of a file.

However, with respect to claims 1-5, 10, 13-15, 17-24, 28, and 30, Official Notice is taken with respect to it being well known in the art to use a transfer count which can be embedded in a file to control and update a system based on the number of transferred files.

With respect to claims 6, 7, 11, 12, 16, 25, and 29, Official Notice is further taken with respect to it being well known in the art to encrypt or secure files.

With respect to claim 9, Official Notice is also taken with respect to it being well known in the art to have transfer of the files which comprises the transmission of a copy of the file.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to utilize the teachings of that which is well known in the art with the apparatus of Abecassis, because the well known teachings provide enhancement by allowing the apparatus to count the transfer files and provide control over the transferring of files to other portable devices.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
